Kathy Barker received her Ph.D. from the University of Massachusetts and was an Assistant Professor in the Laboratory of Cell Physiology and Immunology at Rockefeller when, inspired by the frustrated conversations among scientists, she left the lab to write. Her first book, At the Bench: A Laboratory Navigator, sound to demystify the culture of the laboratory and of research for newcomers, and her second book, At the Helm: A Laboratory Navigator covered the importance of communication and organizational skills in managing a laboratory.

She is currently working on a book as scientists as activists, working beyond the bench.

The Ph.D. Career Planning Series is a collaborative project of:
- Academic Services, UCLA Graduate Division
- The California NanoSystems Institute (CNSI)
- The Society of Postdoctoral Scholars at UCLA
- David Geffen School of Medicine, Office of Postdoctoral Affairs
